Kryton is the inventor of the crystalline waterproofing admixture and has been waterproofing concrete since 1973. The innovative range of Krystol Concrete Waterproofing products helps to build quality, reliability and cost-effectiveness directly into concrete structures, as it renders the concrete itself permanently waterproof. Using our proven Krystol technology, Kryton offers admixture solutions, surface-applied treatments, repair and maintenance products, joint waterproofing protection and water repellent sealer.

When added or applied to concrete, Krystol chemicals create a reaction that causes long, narrow crystals to form, filling the pores, capillaries and hairline cracks of the concrete mass. As long as moisture remains present, crystals continue to grow throughout the life of the concrete.

Kryton's concrete waterproofing admixture, Krystol Internal Membrane (KIM), is specifically designed to protect high-risk, below grade areas from high hydrostatic pressure. Developed in 1980, KIM is the world's first crystalline waterproofing admixture and is the only crystalline admixture on the market to outlive original project warranties, which remain waterproof today.

Kryton has waterproofed hundreds of high-risk concrete waterproofing project around the world using Krystol Technology, including Dubai's Palm Jumeirah, Singapore's Marina Bay Sands, and the megaproject CityCenter in Las Vegas with tremendous success. In addition to being a convenient option, Krystol Technology has been used in many Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certified projects, and contributes to up to six valuable LEED points.

With over 40 years of experience, 50 distributors worldwide, the largest concrete permeability Research Centre in North America, and more than 10,000 successful waterproofing projects, Kryton is recognized and acknowledged as the leader in taking the risk out of concrete waterproofing globally.
